

On January 21, 2017, we will unite for the Women's March on Washington

We stand together in solidarity with our partners and children for the protection of our rights, our safety, our health, and our families—recognizing that our vibrant and diverse communities are the strength of our country.

Join Us!

ATTEND THE MARCH

Join us for the Women's March on Washington on January 21, 2017, and make your voice heard.

INFORMATION FOR OKLAHOMANS

For those wishing to travel to the march in Washington, DC

For those wishing to attend the Sister March in Oklahoma City

SPREAD THE WORD

There's no better way to make an impact than to become an active advocate. Follow us and share this historic convening with friends and family.

Facebook

Instagram

Twitter

Women's Rights Are Human Rights

Follow us

MISSION

The rhetoric of the past election cycle has insulted, demonized, and threatened many of us—immigrants of all statuses, those of diverse religious faiths, people who identify as LGBTQIA, Native people, Black and Brown people, people with disabilities, survivors of sexual assault—and our communities are hurting and scared. We are confronted with the question of how to move forward in the face of national and international concern and fear.

In the spirit of democracy and honoring the champions of human rights, dignity, and justice who have come before us, we join in diversity to show our presence in numbers too great to ignore. The Women’s March on Washington will send a bold message to our new administration on its first day in office, and to the world, that women’s rights are human rights. We stand together, recognizing that defending the most marginalized among us is defending all of us.

We support the advocacy and resistance movements that reflect our multiple and intersecting identities. We call on all defenders of human rights to join us. This march is the first step toward unifying our communities, grounded in new relationships, to create change from the grassroots level up. We will not rest until women have parity and equity at all levels of leadership in society. We work peacefully while recognizing there is no true peace without justice and equity for all.

“It is not our differences that divide us.
It is our inability to recognize, accept, and celebrate those differences.”
— Audre Lorde

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Women’s rights are human rights, regardless of a woman’s race, ethnicity, religion, immigration status, sexual identity, gender expression, economic status, age, or disability. We practice empathy with the intent to learn about the intersecting identities of each other. We will suspend our first judgment and do our best to lead without ego. We follow the principles of Kingian nonviolence.

Principle 1

Nonviolence is a way of life for courageous people. It is a positive force confronting the forces of injustice and utilizes the righteous indignation and spiritual, emotional, and intellectual capabilities of people as the vital force for change and reconciliation.

Principle 2

The Beloved Community is the framework for the future. The nonviolent concept is an overall effort to achieve a reconciled world by raising the level of relationships among people to a height where justice prevails and persons attain their full human potential.

Principle 3

Attack forces of evil, not persons doing evil. The nonviolent approach helps one analyze the fundamental conditions, policies and practices of the conflict rather than reacting to one’s opponents or their personalities.

Follow us

THE BUS TO WASHINGTON, DC

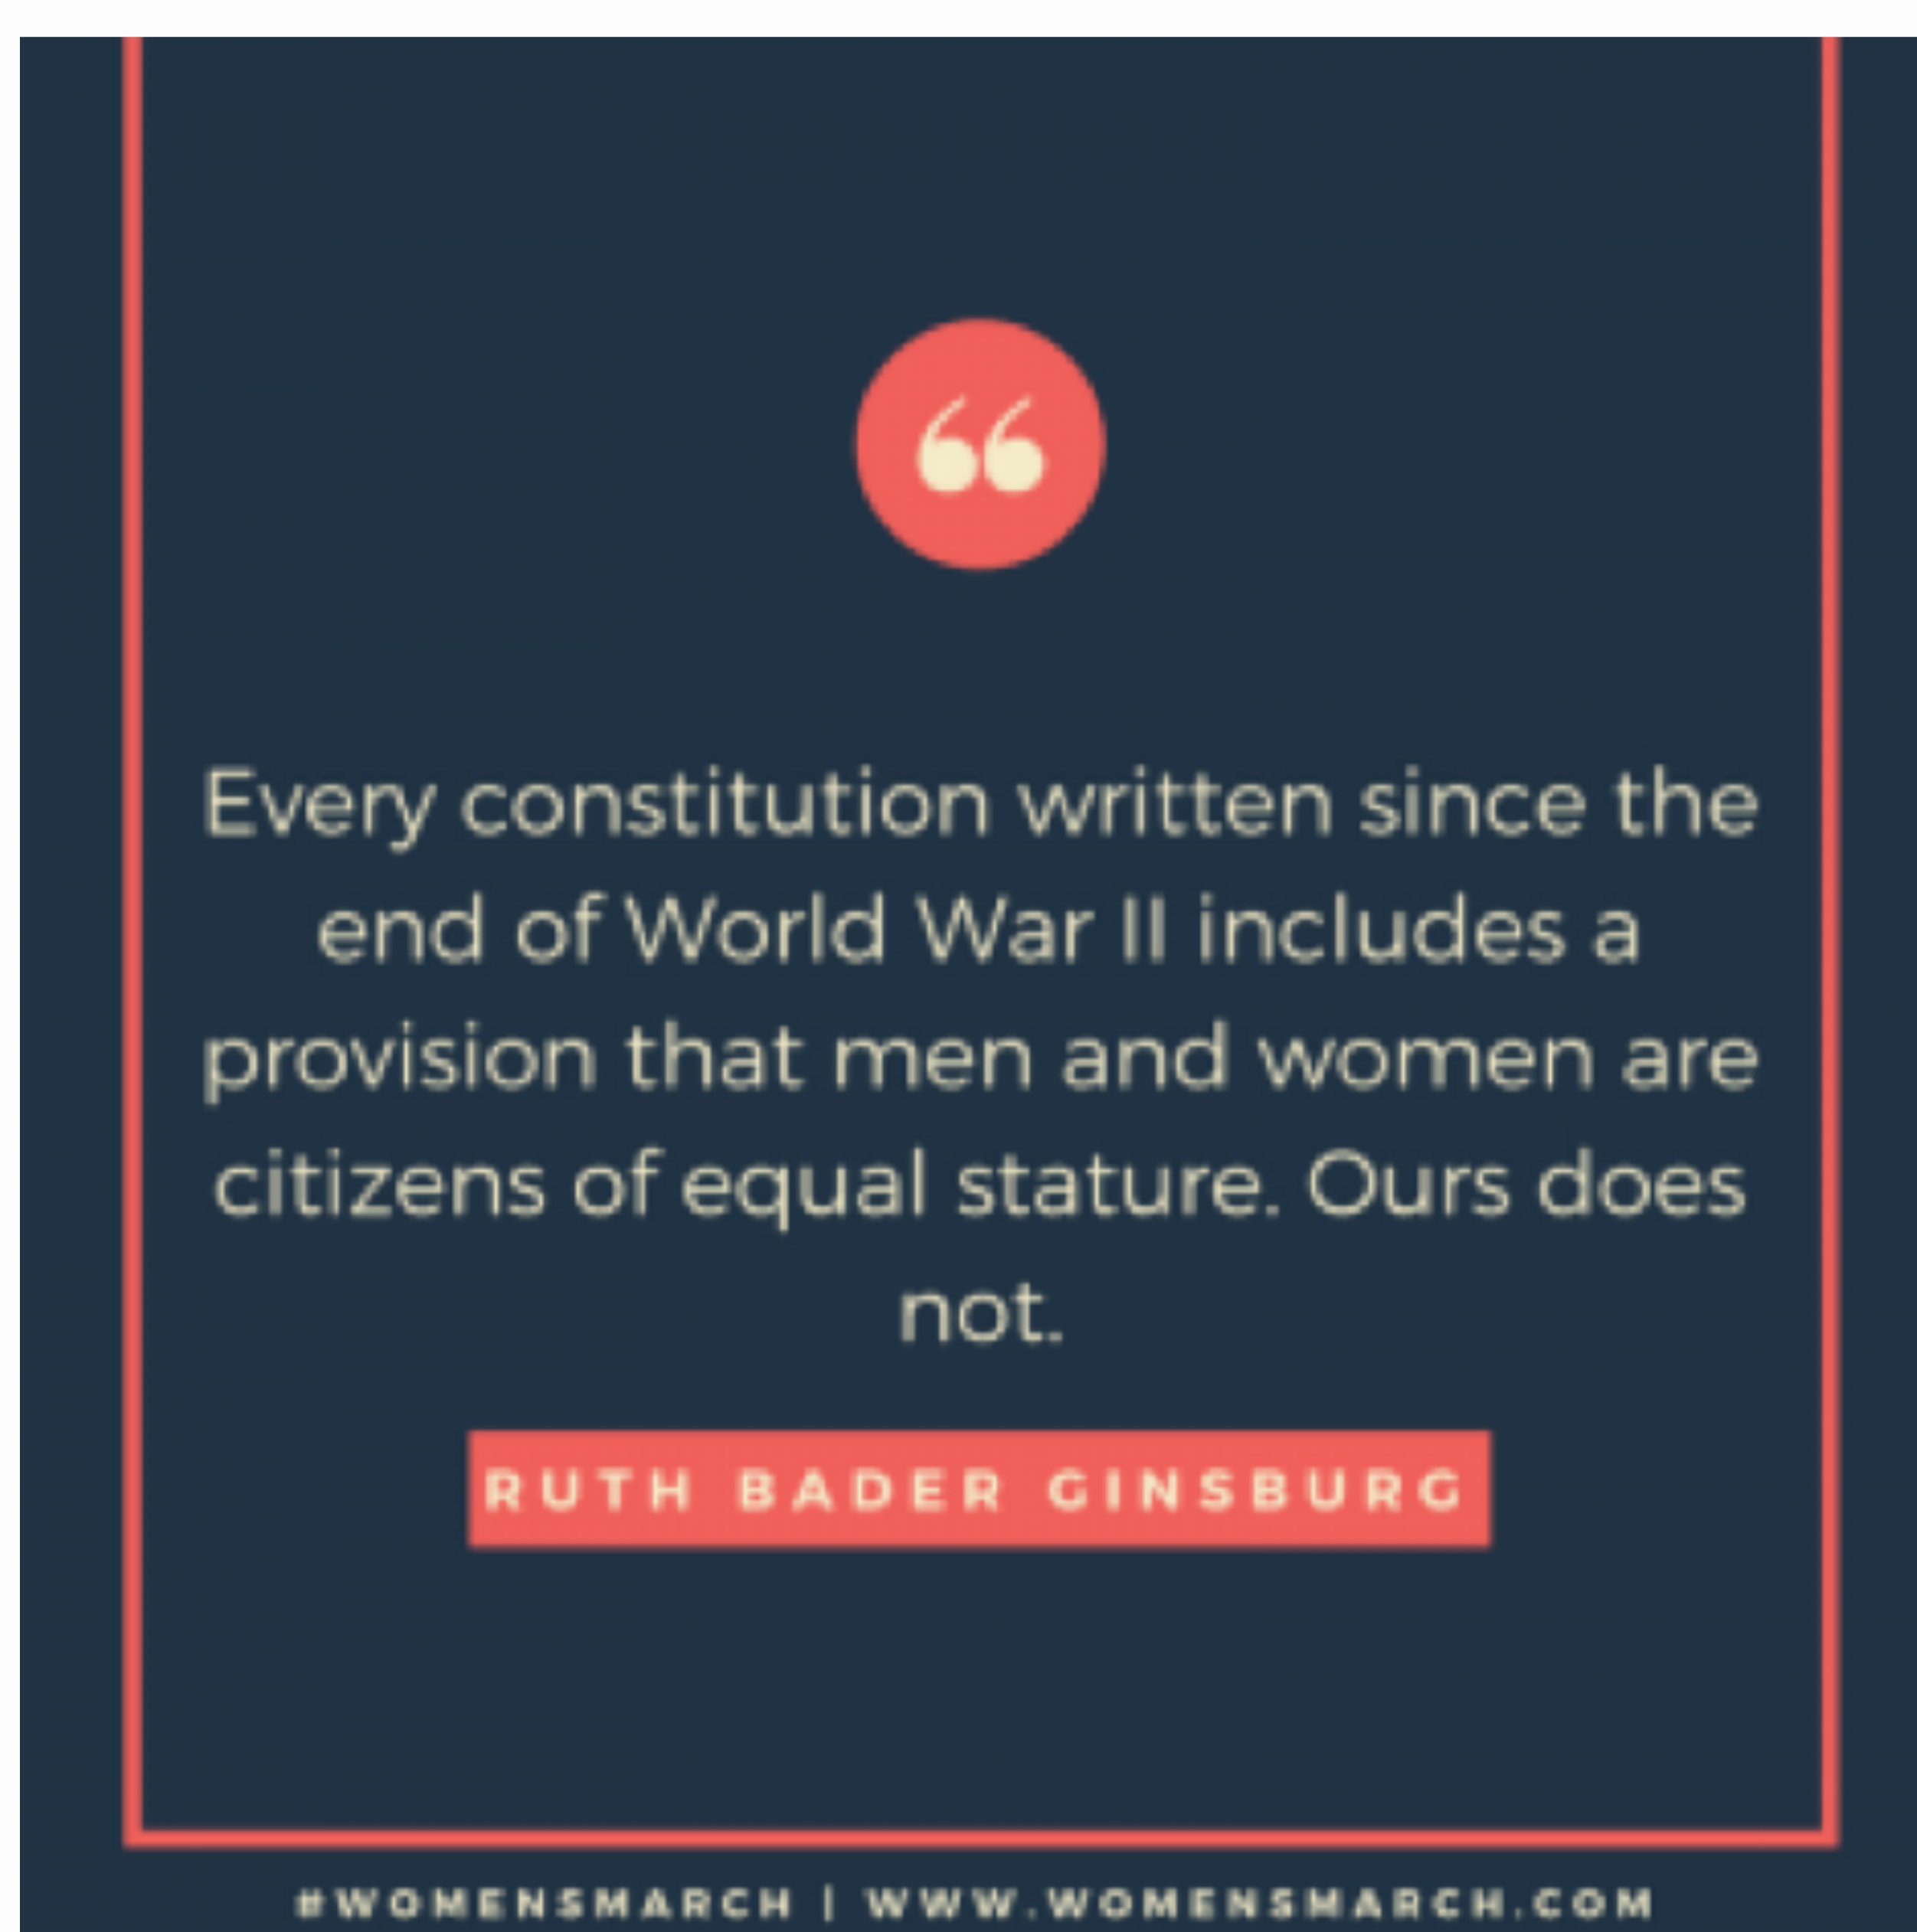

Are you planning to ride the Oklahoma bus to Washington?

Welcome aboard! Check back here frequently for updates.

Event Details: the March

The Women's March on Washington will convene on Saturday, January 21, 2017 at 10:00 AM.

- The starting point will be the intersection of Independence Avenue and Third Street SW, near the U.S. Capitol (see map).
- The Women's March on Washington is a grassroots effort comprised of dozens of independent coordinators at the state level. The effort is helmed by four national co-chairs and a national coordinating committee who are working around the clock to pull it all together.
- Nationally recognized advocates, artists, entertainers, entrepreneurs, thought leaders, and others will speak at the march.

Tips For the Road

Wardrobe Oxygen has some handy suggestions about what to wear to the march.

And, of course, you may want to wear your (optional) official OK march t-shirt or sweatshirt.

Remember that security may be tight and weather may be a challenge, so plan accordingly.

Important Dates

Friday, December 23, 2016

Bus deposits are due

Friday, December 30, 2016

Full payment for the bus and hotel are due

Itinerary

Thursday, January 19, 2017

Bus leaves from Oklahoma City: 6:00-6:30 PM

Bus leaves from Tulsa: 8:00-11:00 PM

We will make stops for breaks and meals, but otherwise we'll be on the bus until we arrive in the Washington, D.C. area.

Friday, January 20, 2017

We will make stops for breaks and meals, but otherwise we'll be on the bus until we arrive in the Washington, D.C. area.

We will have training for the march, advocacy, and issues during the ride.

Arrive at the hotel: 7:30-8:00 PM (time is approximate)

Saturday, January 21, 2017

Hot breakfast at the hotel: 6:30-7:00 AM

Leave hotel, board the bus for the march: 7:15 AM

Arrive at the march: 9:00 AM

Participate in the march: 10:00 AM-5:00 PM

Board the bus to return to Oklahoma: 5:00-5:30 PM (time is tentative)

We will make stops for breaks and meals, but otherwise we'll be on the bus until we arrive in Tulsa.

Sunday, January 22, 2017

We will make stops for breaks and meals, but otherwise we'll be on the bus until we arrive in Tulsa.

Arrive in Tulsa: 6:00-7:00 PM (time is approximate)

Arrive in Oklahoma City: 9:00 PM (time is approximate)

Join Us!

Follow us

OKLAHOMA CITY SISTER MARCH

The Oklahoma City Sister March is in solidarity with the national Women's March on Washington. For those who wish to march but cannot travel to Washington, DC, this page provides information for the Sister March in Oklahoma City.

The Women's March is a national movement to unify and empower everyone who stands for human rights, civil liberties, and social justice for all. We gather in community to find healing and strength through tolerance, civility, and compassion. We welcome all people to join us as we unite locally and nationally.

We will rally with a march through the streets and end with speakers at the Oklahoma State Capitol.

March Details

For more details and information, please visit the event page on Facebook.

How to Attend

There is no charge to attend the OKC Sister March, but please register through one of these sites:

Meetup

Eventbrite

Facebook

How to Help

Donations: We need your help to raise the funds needed to make our march a reality. Please consider a gift of $10-$20, or whatever you can. Change starts with us. You can make a donations as you register for the event.

Volunteer: Be part of history. Please complete and submit the volunteer form.

Join us on January 21, 2017

Follow us

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

About the March

Women's March on Washington—OK is a grassroots organization taking Oklahomans to Washington, D.C. to participate in the national Women's March on Washington on January 21, 2017.

Our group is made up of passionate women who deeply value EQUALITY, JUSTICE, and HUMAN RIGHTS. We believe the Women's March on Washington will send a bold message that women's rights are human rights and human rights are women's rights. We stand together, recognizing that defending the most marginalized among us is defending all of us.

This march is a first step toward unifying our communities, grounded in new relationships, to create change from the grassroots level up. We work peacefully while recognizing there is no true peace without justice and equity for all.

We call on all defenders of human rights to join us in our fight for equality. Here's how you can help by attending the march, spreading the word, or donating.

Your Support

Help us take a strong coalition to the Capitol to represent Oklahoma in the march!

On our way to Washington, D.C. trained facilitators will educate marchers about steps they can take to protect and elevate the status of women at local, state, and national levels through an exclusive advocacy program developed in cooperation with leading women's organizations in Oklahoma.

Take the Bus to the March in Washington, DC

Join us on the Oklahoma bus bound for the Women's March on Washington on January 21, 2017, in Washington DC and make your voice heard.

Buy Your Ticket to DC

Attend the Sister March in Oklahoma City

Attending the Sister March in OKC is free, but please register, so we can best serve the attendees.

Register for OKC

Spread the Word

The best way to make an impact is to become an active advocate. Follow us and share this historic convening with friends and family.

Facebook

Instagram

Twitter

Donate

100% of your donation helps pay expenses for attendees who cannot otherwise afford to attend the march. We are an all-volunteer organization—your donation does not pay salaries (we don't get salaries) or administrative costs (our volunteers cover those).

Donate at GoFundMe

Information for Oklahomans

For those wishing to travel to the march in Washington, DC

For those wishing to attend the Sister March in Oklahoma City

Follow us

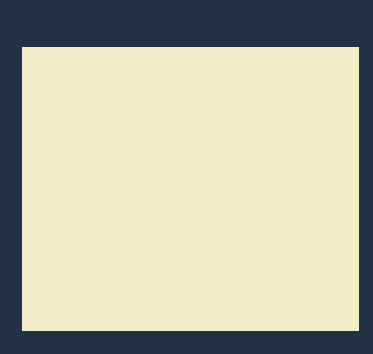

WE'RE ONLY HUMAN

The Oklahoma organizers for the Women's March on Washington (WMW) are volunteers; they are not being compensated in any manner for their time and dedication to this event. This event is a grassroots movement that is fluid and has many moving parts. The national and state organizers share and disseminate information as quickly as possible.

Nothing in the information provided is intended to create a contractual relationship and organizers are merely acting as facilitators to aid in the success of the event.

Any person participating in the WMW does so at their own risk and at their own expense. The Oklahoma organizers make no warranty of any kind, express or implied. Nor are organizers liable for any monetary loss, personal injury, cancellation of event, or misinformation. Participants release Oklahoma organizers from any and all legal liability and acknowledge that participation is at their own risk.

Follow us

GET IN TOUCH

Phone

918-806-8130

Email

Please complete this contact form. I value your privacy, so I won't share your email address. All fields are required.

Your Name*

Your Email Address*

Subject*

Message*

Follow us

